

A Web page is a text document that contains HTML formatting.

A Web browser is a program that interprets the HTML and displays the page.